UNFINISHED BUSINESS * * * *

223 North Main – Jenkins said he has talked to several people regarding a more substantial barrier. He said he is unsure that the structure would hold if the building would collapse unexpectedly. Mull asked if the alley was blocked. Jenkins said it was blocked. Mull also said he did not think the barrier would necessarily have to hold the structure if it collapsed, but that it was more obvious to keep people away from the building.

He thought they would hear something from Historic Landmark sometime in April regarding the grant.

NEW BUSINESS * * * *

240 North Main – A piece of the decorative brick on the façade has fallen. It appears that a bird has made a nest in the mortar between the decorative piece and the building. A letter has been sent to the owner giving him 14 days to fix the problem.

There was no further business to come before the Board, Malcom made a motion to adjourn. Herbert seconded the motion. The meeting adjourned at 5:38 p.m.
